

Milestone Birthdays: Sierra's & Mine

Sweet Sixteen

After having our driveway totally repaved in December, we now have a new roof and gutter system. On January 21st, a dozen or more workers from Capstone showed up at 6:30 am to tear off the old shingles and install new shingles on our 2,500 square foot house and our pool house in less than a day! Ten days later, on January 31st, a crew of six or more from California Seamless Gutters showed up to install seamless (!) gutters. They also finished the job in less than a day.

On February 5th, friends took Sierra out to dinner to celebrate her birthday. The very next day (on my birthday) she went to the DMV and received her driver's license!

Robert and I celebrated my milestone birthday in Carmel staying at a very lovely bed and breakfast, the Carmel Country Inn, taking in a very novel town and its uniqueness, the ocean, the fancy restaurants, and getting in lots of hiking at Lobos Point and Garland Ranch for a total of nine miles over two days.

On my birthday on February 6th, we went out for a special celebratory dinner at Clint Eastwood's Hog's Breath Restaurant!

And I received a beautiful bouquet of flowers from my Mom!
