

Minnie Now Blogs

Minnie started blogging! I didn't even know she could write! Here is an excerpt:

"I really get excited when the grandkids come to visit. I love them. They are so much more cheerful than Dakota. And they really like me. I am really good about not jumping on them especially when they say "off" to remind me. And I am also really good about giving them lots of kisses.

"It took me a long time to learn "sit" and "down" because at first I didn't appreciate treats. I was too busy trying to figure everything else out. Then one day, a light bulb went off in my head and now I get it. Treats are fun. When I sit on command, I get a treat. When I do a down on command, I get a treat."

To read Minnie's entire blog, visit: osbornecountry.com/blog/?postid=16/.

The saw bit me!

A bad maneuver with the hack saw and BAM! Robert ended up at the doctor's office. Forty-five minutes later he walked out with five stitches. This happened to him while topping a 70 foot tree behind our barn.

Sushi for Breakfast

With all three grandkids spending the night recently, they enjoyed shaped pancakes. Aubrey asked for something very different: sushi shaped pancakes!

Long to Short

A short while ago, both Sierra and Robert cut their long locks! Sierra's hair was all the way down to her bottom. She decided to grow it this long because she wanted to donate her hair. The braid Sierra is holding is 10 inches of donated hair! And, as you can see, she still has a lot left.

Robert started growing his hair 2 1/2 years ago so he could wear it in a ponytail because he didn't like having to cut it all the time. However he just could not keep it from escaping that pony tail and it was always all over the place and unruly. In the end, he decided having a pony tail was just as much work. He really likes how easy it is to shampoo and dry his hair now.

