

New Dance Challenge Entries

On March 5th, Brooklyn and I were successfully videotaped by freestyle instructor, Judy, of Dogs Can Dance® for a routine being entered in the March challenge in the entertainment division. This routine has a “wind” theme to the music “Tearstream-Alley.” I found a dress with the look and feel of wind and made 3 wind decor markers for the two of us to dance around and through. I am also entering Dakota (2007-2019) in the same March Dogs Can Dance® challenge. I was able to have Dakota and I videotaped in 2018 and recently found the video so decided to enter her as well! Dogs Can Dance® challenges allow for submittal of video of routines with departed dogs.

Morgan and I are now working on our next routine for the Dogs Can Dance® challenge which will be in July.

Oregon Meets Up With California

Kathy drove down on March 3rd for a visit with us, her friend, Nicole, and to watch Sierra play in a showcase soccer tournament at the Davis Legacy Soccer Complex, also known as Legacy Fields, on March 8th. Kathy's time with Nicole included snowboarding and pickleball. Sierra came down with her teammates to play three days of soccer. Photo of the five of us taken at the soccer fields in Davis.

The 2025 Gray PEAR Affair

The 2025 Gray PEAR Affair family reunion will be hosted by Darcy and Julie Swavely in Machias aka Snohomish at the end of July. Washington is well known for Sasquatch sightings and recently there have been other related sightings, those of Pearsquatch especially in the woods near Machias.

Because of this new phenomenon, Pearsquatch is being featured on this year's reunion souvenir buttons

Destination Imagination

This year's Destination Imagination (DI) team members Brex, Julieta, Sam, Sasha, and Sierra put their best foot forward receiving their highest scores ever taking first place at this year's state level competition! Check out the newspaper skirt, the fancy hat and backdrop, all designed by these girls. Brex initiated the backdrop design before going to England and when it was time to present, it was Brex's voice doing the narrative!
