

Off to San Luis Obispo

My Mom is visiting for a week having arrived today. Tomorrow Robert, Mom, and I will be taking a two-day excursion to San Luis Obispo. More about our trip in the May issue of Sue's News and Views!

Open House at NVDTC Dog Club

Big accomplishment this month for me was to organize this year's dog club open house. Last Saturday was the big event. The turn out was fantastic due to great PR coverage: Lots of flyers posted throughout Napa, postings on online community bulletins, Facebook, and Next Door, radio coverage, and a press release I wrote published in the local paper. Trainers from the club put on four different demos: dog dancing (pictured above), obedience, rally, and scent work. The open house included a drawing to win one of 4 gift baskets or a free training class. I also painted an eight-foot long banner to display near the driveway into the clubhouse.

I had so much fun with the open house and am delighted with how successful it was. I look forward to the club's 2020 open house, the year the club celebrates 50 years!

Time to Till

The planting season has arrived! Robert has started his annual garden with the planting of tomatoes and peppers. Next he will be planting corn, squash, beans, basil and cauliflower.
