

Roswell

Badlands

Badlands

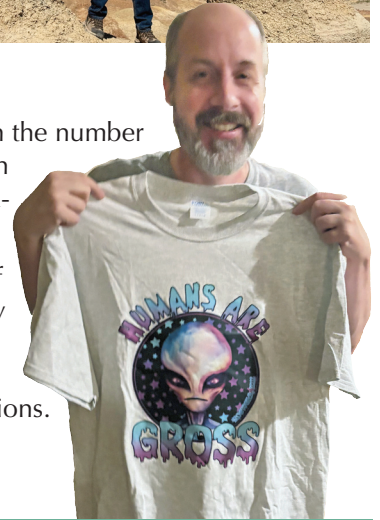

Carlsbad Caverns

New Mexico!

On May 5th, Robert and I flew away for a week-long New Mexico vacation with the number one goal to explore and experience Carlsbad Caverns. We also took in the alien attractions in Roswell, the White Sands National Monument, the Petroglyph National Monument, Old Town Albuquerque, and the Bisti Badlands.

The Carlsbad Caverns and the Bisti Badlands experiences were the top two of our New Mexico adventure. Both are absolutely astounding and unbelievably mind-blowing—a definite must see! We took two tours through the Carlsbad Caverns and attended the “Bat Flight” to watch hundreds of bats fly out of the cavern. In the Bisti Badlands, we got lost in the thousands of unique rock formations. If it wasn't for us following waypoints, we might still be lost!

Lots more photos on Flickr

Celebrations!

A Special Birthday

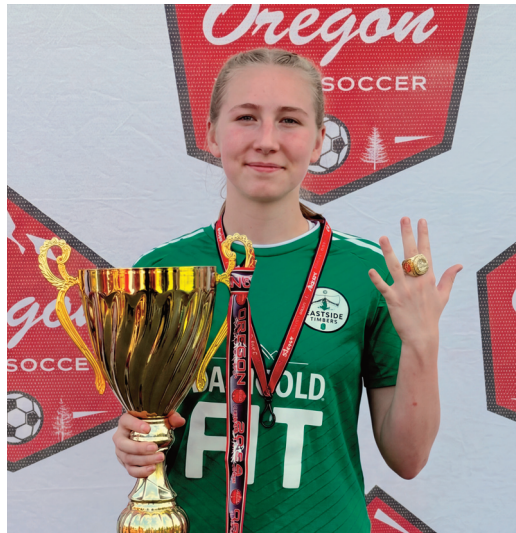

On May 14th, Brex celebrated her 18th birthday!

Photo is from Destination Imagination's team group photo then AI enhanced. Team photo taken the day Brex, Sierra and their team qualified at the state level to go on to the May 21st to 24th DI Global Finals in Kansas City!

Special Soccer Placement

On May 9th, Sierra's Youth Soccer Team placed first in their division in Oregon State and will now advance to the USYS Far West Regionals and National Championships in Murfreesboro/Smyrna, Tennessee!

NVDTC Recognition

On April 11th, NVDTC (our local dog club) held their annual banquet wherein our dancing team (Dakota, Brooklyn, Morgan, and I) received recognition for qualifying in 8 performances to earn our Dogs Can Dance® Championship!

