

Robert & I at class reunion relaxing with drinks pleased others put centerpieces together for us.

The 60-Year Class Reunion Adventure

Creating the centerpieces for the reunion was quite the deal given grasses, pine branches, and pine cones were not items we had on hand when we arrived in Bellingham a couple of days before the reunion. The branches and the pine cones were a slam dunk being my Mom had a tree to cut branches from and a classmate collected lots of pine cones from her friends. Robert and I drove around looking for the grasses. In the rain! Just when we thought we would not find any and I was starting to freak out, we found the perfect grass growing by a shopping mall! On the day of the reunion, we brought ALL the parts to the country club where the reunion was being held and a team of classmates jumped in and put them all together on the tables for us!

Lincoln City Party Time on the Beach

After the class reunion, Robert and I joined Tim, Kathy, Rylan, Brex, and Sierra at a house on the beach in Lincoln City to celebrate Tim's 50th birthday and Robert's 75th birthday. Check out the chicken cake Sierra made for them (they both like chickens). Kathy set up a special class for all 7 of us to make glass creations at a local glass maker. Plus, we enjoyed lots of walks on the beach, nice weather, lovely sunsets, pool playing, game playing, puzzle time, mimosa with breakfast, and of course cake and ice cream, all of which made for a wonderful, fun, and relaxing four days!
