

Fun day in Portland

Oregon Living

The Pines are now all settled into their temporary rental house in Lake Oswego. They are enjoying the convenience of living close to everything, not just the kids' schools. Trips to the big city of Portland, games, concerts, great shopping, and the airport are now easy peasy!

"THE" Art Exhibit

The October 12th reception for my art exhibit at the Napa County Library, which included a talk by me about my art, went really well!

PLUS, two days before the reception, a newspaper article about my art and the reception was published in the NV Register (click/zoom to view!)

Robert and I hung 20 pencil drawings at the library on October 1st. Seventeen were original. I came up with three more to hang by printing scans of some of my favorites I had gifted or sold. By enhancing lightened prints of the images with pencil, no one could tell the difference.

Really cool was Kathy, Aubrey and Sierra flying down from Oregon to attend the reception and to hear my 30-minute talk!

While they were all here for the weekend, Aubrey and Sierra were treated to special shape pancakes from Grandma!

Just One Point Away!

Brooklyn's major this past weekend at Del Valle came within one point of her becoming a champion! Two majors & 15 points are required by AKC for a championship. (A major is three points or more.) Brooklyn currently has two majors with a total of 14 points.

Staging my Artwork

My Power Point Presentation