Sue's News & Views

Shorts from my world osborncountry.com November 20, 2026 • Edition 141

Birthdays! On November 1st, we celebrated

Chris turning 56 and Miles turning 8 AND and I painted the walls in Chris' master bathroom. Guess what we gave Chris for his birthday? Yep. A gallon of paint for his bathroom.

Ten days later, it was Morgan's birthday.

A few days before that, at Nelson's Grove in Woodland, Brooklyn qualified in her first two trials toward a Shed Dog SD-1 title.

And not to leave Morgan out on outings….on October 31st, she and I were off to another agility fun match in Elk Grove running two standard courses and two jumpers courses. She did great! Totally wore me out though.

Murray Update Sierra, Tim, and Kathy attended a graduation ceremony for Murphy, the dog Sierra and her family raised for the Dogs for the Blind program. Murray is now on "campus" for his final six-step training before his final assignment (this after his assignment over the last few months with a seasoned Dogs for the Blind trainer).

Yosemite to Redwoods On their way to the Redwoods, Hayden and Brex stopped in for a visit last week, this after exploring Yosemite for a few days. They were happy to be in a warm house after experiencing a little too much Yosemite cold, fall weather. Their plan was to spend a few days in the Redwoods as well. Until they were rained out. Good cause to end their California road trip and head back to Oregon early.

A New Direction

The day has arrived wherein our floors are almost always dirty because I no longer have the energy to sweep & vacuum. Thus it is Goodbye to Kirby & hello to Oryzom.